

NO AMERICAN BEEF
TO ENTER GERMANYORDER PUBLISHED BY THE SENATE TO-DAY.

Fear of Texas Fever Leads to This Law—Retirement of Caprivi and Eulenberg Sanctioned by the Emperor—Successors Not Yet Known—Czar of Russia Nearly Dead.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—At Hamburg the senate published an order today prohibiting the importation of American cattle or beef on account of Texas fever. So many versions are current of the suddenly precipitated crisis caused by the resignation of Caprivi and Eulenberg that it is impossible to form a definite conclusion until the matter has further developed.

The first indication to the public of the crisis was the official announcement that the emperor had postponed his journey to Blankenburg. The greatest excitement was created when the events became known. It seems to be generally admitted that Caprivi obtained the approval of the federal ministers to his moderate policy in regard to the socialists. It is not known whether he summoned the conference of the ministers without the emperor's knowledge. If he did this may account for the crisis on the supposition that the emperor was displeased with such an attempt to place Eulenberg in the minority. It may be remembered that in 1890 the emperor called Prince Bismarck to account for consulting Dr. Windthorst, the then clerical leader, without his knowledge, and that this was the indirect cause of Prince Bismarck's fall. If such is the case now Prince Bismarck will be a happy man.

Another report says the question of financial reforms caused dissension. The south German states approved Caprivi's anti-revolutionary policy, but desired him to secure the passage in reichstag of the financial reforms proposed by Dr. Miquel and Count von Pasadowsky, secretary of the imperial treasury, but in view of last session's experience Caprivi declined to undertake such a hopeless task.

Finally to further complicate the matters it is believed the long disputed question of combining or separating the offices of imperial chancellor and Prussian premier was revived. It is said the emperor, tired of the intrigues the separation of these posts under Caprivi had caused, wanted to reunite them as they were under Bismarck. If after Eulenberg's dismissal, Caprivi had been content to reassume the Prussian premiership, the crisis might have been settled, but he declined, and the emperor, insisting on his view of the question, accepted the chancellor's resignation.

Numerous candidates are mentioned as successor to Caprivi. Among those mentioned is Baron von Zeidlitz, author of the defeated education bill. It can not be stated, however, that any of those mentioned in connection with the office have any prominent claims. It is asserted that the emperor has a "dark horse." Prince von Hohenlohe's age is supposed to be deterrent to his acceptance of the office. It is believed that both Caprivi and Eulenberg assigned as their reason for their resignations the hopelessness of any successful co-operation between them. Not even Prince Bismarck's most loyal friend, Caprivi, thinks he has any chance of returning to office. Eulenberg is said by his friends to be glad to escape from the chancellorship.

All the papers express recognition of Caprivi's high personal qualities. The National Zeitung says it believes the office of chancellor and Prussian prime minister will be reunited, and that no other changes will occur in the Prussian ministry. The Vossische Zeitung says more is at stake than the public measures against the social democracy.

A dispatch to the London Post from Berlin says Emperor William telegraphed to Prince von Hohenlohe-Lechlingsfurst, stathalter of Alsace-Sorraine, requesting him to resume the chancellorship. His majesty also invited Dr. Miquel to succeed Eulenberg as president of the Prussian ministerial council.

M'KINLEY IN NEW YORK.

The Ohio Statesman Makes a Lightning Trip Through the State.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Gov. McKinley rushed through the state of New York yesterday at the rate of seventy miles an hour. The first stop out of Buffalo was at Batavia, where Gov. McKinley spoke from a platform erected in front of the court house. At Rochester there was a band and a procession, and an audience of several thousand assembled in the public square. At Geneva the governor's audience included a considerable number of mechanics. At Seneca Falls and Rochester enthusiastic crowds greeted McKinley. Auburn was reached shortly after noon. The governor spoke in Seward park to a large audience. At Utica the reception given to the governor was most enthusiastic. The opera house was packed and it was only after a painful process of physical exertion that McKinley could squeeze himself on the stage. The special went back to Syracuse at breakneck speed. A supper was given the governor by the reception committee, immediately after which he went to Alhambra hall. After expounding protection to the audience there McKinley went to the city hall and talked to as many as could crowd into the place.

PADUCAH, Ky., Oct. 27.—William Green, the merchant charged with assaulting the 9-year-old daughter of Max Stromberg Monday, was held to answer before the grand jury without bail. A mob also gathered, but the prisoner was landed in jail in time to prevent a lynching. Green is 38 years of age, a prominent member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and is the father of seventeen children.

SOME OF THE MINERS ALIVE.

Entombed Men in the Pewabic Mine Signaled with Hammers.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., Oct. 27.—The fact has been established that at least a number of the entombed men at the Pewabic mine are still alive. This was ascertained by signaling with hammers. Superintendent Brown, who heads the rescue party, and who has remained at his post since the hour of the disaster, maintains that there is an abundance of good air in the room and is very confident that eight of the imprisoned men will be found unharmed. Three, he thinks, may have been caught under the falling mass and crushed to death.

BANK VAULT ROBBED

OMAHA JOB STILL A COMPLETE MYSTERY.

Discovery Was Kept Secret for a Considerable Time, by Officials, in the Hope of Detecting the Criminals—Ranch Property Chiefly Destroyed by Nebraska Prairie Fires.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 27.—The fact was made public yesterday that a large sum of money had been mysteriously taken from boxes in the safety vaults of the Omaha national bank. The discovery was made more than two weeks ago, and every precaution has been taken by the bank officials to keep the matter a secret. Detectives are at work on the case. The principal loser in the case as far as known is William Gladish, the retail druggist. Last March he placed in his box the sum of $2,700 in gold. He discovered Oct. 5 about $1,200 of the amount was missing. He notified Mr. Millard and the investigation commenced.

So far, however, all efforts to discover the manner in which the money was lost have failed, and the bank authorities as well as the police are as much in the dark as ever. The private boxes are surrounded with every safeguard the ingenuity of science can devise. The individual boxes, of which there are several hundred, are inside a burglar proof vault, constructed of the best hardened steel, and supplied with double time locks. Each private box has a strong lock, which can not be opened without the use of two different keys. All the boxes are being examined.

RANCH PROPERTY SUFFERS.

Extent of Loss by Nebraska Prairie Fires Is Still Uncertain.

MULLEN, Neb., Oct. 27.—Reports of the damage resulting from the prairie fires that continue to devastate Grant, Cherry and Sheridan counties are gradually drifting in. The loss of life will be less than a dozen, it is thought, though yet there is nothing certain in any direction. The great damage is to pastures, hay and ranch property and range cattle. In every county this will run into the thousands. Thousands of tons of hay were consumed and two unknown men were burned to death about nine miles north of town Thursday, while trying to backfire to save their homes. On all sides are found dead cattle and ruins of ranchers' homes. The ranchers' families are supposed to be near the streams, where they are being sought. Accurate information will be delayed some time.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 27.—So far as could be learned from the general manager's office of the Burlington road the prairie fires now devastating the northwest portion of Nebraska are confined to the territory between the lines of the Burlington and Elkhorn systems. At the Elkhorn headquarters the same condition of affairs was met with as at the Burlington headquarters, the general impression being that the fires were confined to the southern portion of Cherry county.

Bank Is Robbed at Malvern, Iowa.

MALVERN, Iowa, Oct. 27.—The Farmers' and Mechanics' bank was visited by burglars yesterday morning, and it is supposed that $2,000 in cash was stolen. Nitro-glycerine was used in opening the vault. The building was practically blown to pieces and the money and other contents scattered in the street. The explosion aroused the whole neighborhood, and the thieves left money scattered over the floor in their haste to get away.

BIG BATTLE RAGES
IN A CHINESE FORT

CASTLE AT KEILEN ASSAILED BY JAPANESE.

Twenty Thousand Soldiers Defend It and a Desperate Engagement is in Progress—Further Details of the Victory of Jap Vessels and Troops on the Yalu River.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 27.—A terrible fight is now in progress at Keilen. The castle is being defended by twenty thousand Chinese who are making a terrible fight. Dispatches from Wi-Ju, dated midnight, give additional details of the battle fought between the Chinese and Japanese across the Yalu river. Gen. Nodzu, the Japanese chief of staff, it appears, succeeded in getting the main body of the Japanese army across the Yalu river without mishap before daylight on Thursday. Then Col. Sato was sent forward at the head of a flying column on a reconnoitering expedition. He discovered the enemy occupying a fortified position near the village of Fushang on the right bank of the Yalu. In spite of the fact that he had no artillery at his disposal, Col. Sato immediately commenced an attack upon the Chinese and a fierce fight followed. The Chinese fought desperately and stubbornly. The attack began at 10 o'clock in the morning and lasted until noon, when the Chinese began wavering, broke, and eventually retired in great disorder, falling back upon Kulienshan.

The troops commanded by Col. Sato, after the Chinese had retired, set to work upon the demolition of the fortifications of Fushang. Inside the fortifications they found 200 Chinese dead. The Japanese also captured a number of prisoners, among whom was a Chinese officer who stated that the position was held by eighteen battalions of Chinese troops. The Japanese, escorting their prisoners, then marched in the direction of Gen. Nodzu's main body with the intention of rejoining it.

The number of Chinese wounded is not known. The Japanese lost five officers and ninety men killed and wounded.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 27.—E. M. Clark, manager of Armour & Co.'s wholesale oleomargarine warehouse, was before the United States district court yesterday on a charge of contempt in refusing to open his books to Internal Revenue Collector Kearns. Clark denies that he or his firm is defrauding the government, and says the collector simply wants to get evidence against the firm's customers who may be disobeying the provisions of the oleomargarine law. The collector admits that this is his purpose and claims that he has a legal right to the books so long as he does not use the evidence so secured against the firm.

BUSINESS IS HURT BY POLITICS

R. G. Dun & Co. Say the Campaign Has a Bad Effect.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "Engrossing political excitement in many of the states causes a natural slackening in some kinds of business. But on the whole business indications are rather more favorable than they were a week ago. Gold exports have ceased, quite a number of mills have gone into operation, and the demand for products, if not equal to that of prosperous years, is better than it has been of most of the time this year. The prices of farm products do not improve much, and there are still some strikes to resist reduction of wages, so that the purchasing power of the people can not have materially increased, but there is a more hopeful spirit which prompts greater activity. On the other hand, the record of past transactions is somewhat less favorable than of late. Payments through the principal clearing houses throughout the country show a decrease of 1.2 per cent compared with last year, and a decrease of 21.9 per cent compared with the same week in 1892, the decrease for four weeks being 29.8 per cent.

"It is interesting that in spite of the low price of the principal southern crop manufacturers and wholesale dealers report rather more improvement in trade with the south than with any other section. The wheat market is lower and nothing appears to justify any important change. Western receipts have been 4,816,571 bushels, against 6,276,623 last year, and Atlantic exports only 584,263 bushels, against 1,066,666 last year. Corn is higher without any clear reason, and it is noteworthy that at the same time pork is 75 cents lower, lard 35 cent per 100 pounds, and hogs 40 cents lower. The contrast indicates how little the provision market depends at present on natural relations of supply and demand.

"In iron and steel the west shows weakness, while eastern markets show more encouragement. The demand for wool is not as large as it has been, and while prices have scarcely changed for two weeks sales are but 4,304,250 pounds, against 5,778,750 in 1892, and for four weeks 19,451,749 pounds, against 25,744,750 in 1892. Prices were put down before the new tariff took effect, so that results of foreign competition are felt mainly in reduced sales of some domestic wools.

"The failures for the week were 231 in the United States, against 352 last year, and fifty-two in Canada, against forty-four last year."

TABLEQUAH, I. T., Oct. 27.—A courier has arrived with the information that Sheriff Proctor and a posse of Cherokees are hot on the trail of Cook and his gang of robbers, being only half an hour behind the bandits. Thursday night Louisa Cook, a sister of the leader of the notorious gang, rode into Fort Gibson and terrorized the people of that place by shooting into the houses and then defying arrest. She filled the depot full of lead from her pistol. After driving the frightened citizens off the streets she galloped through a squad of deputy marshals and out of town in true bandit style.

In this city 63,443 names were added to the list, making the whole number registered 264,247. In Brooklyn 37,820 voters registered, bringing the total in that city up to 169,178.

The deceased Mrs. Painter was one of George Jacob Schweinfurth's dupes, and the son alleges that the pseudo savior has notes aggregating several thousand dollars which were his mother's property and which now rightfully belong to him. Young Painter went down to see Schweinfurth yesterday and made a demand for the missing notes, but the polished pretender insisted that Mrs. Painter had destroyed the notes previous to her death. He did not give any reason for their destruction, but claimed that he knew they had been torn up.

The son was not satisfied with the explanation and returning to Rockford engaged the services of an attorney to prosecute Schweinfurth. Young Painter proposes to make it as hot as can for the red headed ruler of Weldon farm.

THE YELLOW TERROR OF ORIENTAL WARS

GEN. YEH OF THE IMPERIAL CHINESE ARMY.

He is the Wellington of the Flowery Kingdom—His Field Tactics, However, Resemble Those of the Corsican Conqueror of Europe, and Ought To Be Successful.

When you read about Chinese soldiers running away from the battle field it is, without doubt, the fault of the officers, not the soldiers. As long as their officers stay on the field the troops will remain. Sometimes, however, when a soldier is promoted and has become rich by robbing the men of the money sent him to pay them off, he wants to enjoy himself here before testing the pleasure in store for him in another world, so he leaves his men in the line of battle while he takes a bird's-eye view of the field from a hilltop in the rear. No soldier will be steady under such circumstances.

Low Wing Fook, the famous commander of the "Black Flag" army in Tonkin, always remained in the front line with his troops, and his officers also set a becoming example to the men under them; the consequence was that the large French army sent into Annam in 1883-4 was unable to conquer this little band of warriors, and the command is now in the service of the governor of the Two Quangs, generally known as the Viceroy of Canton.

Gen. Yeh seems to be made of such stalwart stuff as the veteran leader of the "Black Flags," and naturally his little command of 4,000 gives good account of itself wherever engaged.

Yeh first attracted the attention of the outside world by the wonderful celerity with which he crushed the rebellion in Mongolia about a year or so ago, but he has had the confidence and appreciation of the Viceroy Li Hung Chang for a long time. He has again earned distinction by his brilliant achievements in Corea.

A dispatch from Tien Tsin on the 25th of August to the London Times says:

"Gen. Yeh's force of 4,000 men joined the main body of Chinese troops at Ping-An on the morning of Aug. 23. The retreat from Asan was a brilliant feat. The heat was intense and the route lay through a diffeult country. In addition to these obstacles the column was harassed along the whole distance by bodies of the enemy. But notwithstanding all this the march of 350 miles west was effected in good order, the Japanese lines at Chung-Chow being broken."

For this achievement and his subsequent victory over the Japanese army at Ping-An, after the junction with the main army was effected, Gen. Yeh and 100 of the officers of the imperial army have been rewarded by an imperial edict.

Gen. Yeh is not the commander-in-chief of the army in Corea, that function developing upon Gen. Liu Ming Chuen, who was Viceroy of Formosa during the time of the Franco-Chinese war. Liu is looked upon as the probable successor of Li Hung Chang in case of that statesman's removal by death or imperial edict. At least he is the most prominent candidate for the succession now in the field.

CURTIS CAN HAVE THE CONTRACT

Ryan & Brown Willing to Sub-let At Twice His Figures.

The Recorder, with the help of a few blatherskites, continues in its endeavors to make political capital out of the sewer contract at the county asylum. It doesn't suit the purposes of that paper to be fair and honest in the matter.

M. H. Curtis, whose name was signed to the informal bid which was rejected by the committee, is a republican of the stalwart kind.

P. W. Ryan, of the firm of Ryan & Brown, is a democrat, and the man is yet to be heard from to question his democracy.

So far as heard from, Mr. Curtis has not complained on account of the rejection of his bid.

"I have not heard that Mr. Curtis has found any fault on account of his bid being thrown out," said Mr. Ryan this morning, after reading the Recorder. "It is another party who is trying to kick up a row. Now I tell you what it is. Mr. Curtis does not want the contract at the figures named. If he wants the job we will give it to him on a sub contract, and will just double his figures to help him out. You see his figures footed up according to Mr. Billings, at $1,311.62. Now we will add $1,311.52, making the price at $2,623.04. He will lose money on it at that."

This is a plain and fair statement of the case. The statement that the county is paying so much a ton for iron is all nonsense. The contract calls for 216 feet of cast iron pipe, laid on a trestle over a ravine. In order to get this pipe of sufficient thickness, the specifications were made, calling for iron pipe by the ton, and the price includes the work per foot complete, the trestle, the pipe, and the putting of the same in position.

FAIR LOCAL RECEIPTS OF GRAIN

Prices Well Maintained Except on Oats Which Have Declined.

Receipts of grain were lighter during the past week than the week previous, though a fair business was transacted. Prices with the exception of oats were well maintained. All those who attended the late Rock Co. fair will remember the large display of buggies F. A. Taylor had there, and a certain phaeton which was awarded first money for being the best made vehicle on the ground. Mr. Taylor sold this phaeton to Mrs. Henry Crane a few days ago, and it makes a very handsome appearance on the street.

SLUGGED AT NIGHT BY UNKNOWN MEN

DOOR.

Received a Terrible Blow in the Face

From a Rock, and May Lose One Eye—Wound Caused by the Thugs Is a Serious One—No Reason Is Given.

Unknown thugs called James Cox to his front door last night and pounded him in his face with a rock. It was about 10 o'clock and he had just taken off his coat and vest preparatory to retiring when a rap came to the door of his home on North Bluff street, north of the railroad bridge. He stepped to the door and threw it open. He was immediately grabbed by some unknown person and received a terrible blow in the face with a rock. The blood flew in every direction and the men, of whom there were four, took flight and ran across the railroad bridge. Cox came up town with his face covered with blood and Officer Smith dispatched George Davis with the injured man to the office of Dr. Edden, where his injuries were dressed. He had a cut about two inches in length over one eye. It extended across the upper eyelid and out onto the cheek. The face was terribly swollen and Dr. Edden said he could not tell whether Cox would lose his eye or not. Cox did not know any of the parties who attacked him, and could assign no reason for the assault. Cox is the husband of Alvira Lord Cox, who formerly lived on River street.

LOOKS BLUE FOR INSURED MEN

Local Holders of Policies Feel the Push of Hard Times.

"Hard times have had a decided influence on the business of life insurance," said a local agent today. "Men in almost any station of life are so cramped for money that is almost out of the question to write new business. Men recognize the wisdom of carrying a policy but they find it impossible to pay for it, and thus they go without it."

"Thus far but few policies have been allowed to lapse, and the life insurance companies have not made the great profits that many of them have been credited with. But we all know that in many cases policy-holders have found it very difficult to keep up their payments of premiums, and only by straining every nerve have they succeeded in doing so. Many of them have written to me concerning the matter."

"I have no doubt that next year the situation will be a different one. The winter is close at hand, with less work and less prospect of employment for many laboring men and mechanics. They will suffer severely and I am afraid that many of these will be compelled next year to have their policies lapse. They will not be able to make the payments, and thus will find themselves compelled to lose not only their policies, but also the money they have paid on them. I hope I am mistaken, for their sake and that of their families, but as things appear at present I cannot very well come to any other conclusion."

COST OF RUNNING THE JAIL.

Bear's Administration Compared With Hogan's Heavy Expenses Necessary.

Candidate Hogan is endeavoring to make political capital by comparing his administration in the sheriff's office with the administration of republican sheriffs. He should be fair and honest in his comparisons, and then if he makes a point it will have force. Let him take his last year in the office and compare it with Mr. Bear's first year. Bear succeeded Hogan. In 1892 (Hogan's last year) there were 119 commitments, according to the jail register. In 1893 (Bear's first year) there were 227 commitments—162 more than Hogan. Besides this, Bear had to provide at the expense of Rock county, accommodations for the Dane county prisoners sent here a portion of that year. Of course the board of these prisoners was by contract between Dane county and Sheriff Bear, but Rock county, by law, was compelled to provide other expenses.

In addition to the expenses of 1893, there was a general renovation of the jail, three new stoves were bought to replace those burned out, and an expensive sewer was built, which expenses were not incurred during Hogan's administration.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL AT BARKERS
Autumn Festival Held Last Evening—Super Follows the Entertainment.

If the air was filled with fog and rain and the roads with mud last night no one in the Grange hall was conscious of it. The occasion was their autumn festival in which young and old participated, the invited guests being one whole school on the west side of the river, Mrs. McGee superintendent and a few from the city. The hall was adorned with pictures, potted plants, autumn leaves and bric-a-brac. The children were attired in plaids and colors vieing with the rainbow from the delicate tints to the more brilliant colors. The programme under Miss Julia Dutton's leadership was characteristic of such occasions, unique and cheerful. The music was fine, both vocal and instrumental. The playing upon two instruments by Mr. Hilliard, engineer at the insane hospital, was exceptionally fine. He manipulated a harmonica to his own guitar accompaniment. His rendition of the "Mocking Bird" made the audience imagine the bird fluttering and singing with all his might. After the entertainment everybody was invited to the rooms below and seated at well-loaded tables not inferior to any club dinner.

Vanilla Is the Standby.

Although the art of ice cream making has been vastly improved of late years, and the range of flavors has been greatly widened, vanilla, the old-fashioned favorite of all sorts of people, still holds its place in the esteem of the public. When the ice cream saloon must deal in few flavors it always includes vanilla, and this flavor sells well, even when fresh fruits are obtained as ingredients of ice cream.

TWO GOOD SPEAKERS HERE THIS EVENING

R. A. ELWARD AND W. A. POL-LARD, OF MADISON.

Talented Young Republicans to Address a Meeting in the Municipal Court Room—Major Upham's Engagement—Secretary Cunningham Talks on State Taxes.

There will be a grand republican rally this evening at the municipal court room, under the auspices of the Republican club. The meeting will be addressed by W. L. Pollard and R. A. Elward of the State University Republican club. Both these gentlemen are able and eloquent speakers, and the members of the club will be well repaid by attending the meeting. Everybody is invited.

Major W. H. Upham and Theron P. Keator will discuss campaign issues in Janesville next Saturday. A big meeting is assured.

Secretary of State Cunningham spoke in the opera house last night. He told Janesville people how much county taxes had been "reduced" by the withholding—until after election—of the one-mill school levy (a tax specifically ordered by the statute and not discretionary with state officials.) H. J. Skeffington, the shoe maker orator, said that Major Upham was a scoundrel because the proprietors in the Pennsylvania mining regions oppressed their help. Careful study of the Pennsylvania abuses in a democratic campaign book made him thoroughly competent, he felt sure, to tell all about Marshfield and the pineries.

From the Vatican.

The state department at Washington is considerably troubled with the care of certain large packing cases piled up in the cellar of the building marked "The Vatican, Rome, Italy." They contain the priceless manuscripts and relics sent by his holiness the pope to the Columbian exposition. Through an arrangement made with the American minister in Rome to the Italian court the Columbian collection was brought to the United States on board an American man-of-war, and a guarantee was given that it should be returned to the proper place in Rome by the same method of transportation. Unfortunately, however, it has been impossible up to this time to return these articles to their rightful owner from the fact that American men-of-war have not been receiving orders which would take them in the vicinity of the historic seven-hilled city. Special pains and care, however, are taken with these relics and curios of the great explorer at the state department and watchmen have been detailed to keep constant vigil over them during the entire twenty-four hours of the day.

A Novel Exhibition.

Vienna will have a novel exhibition in the winter of 1895-96, the arrangements for which have just been made. It is to be a collection of all objects of interest connected with the congress of Vienna in 1814-15, which redivided Europe after the fall of Napoleon. It will include portraits of the persons who took part in the congress—Metternich, Talleyrand, Wellington, Castlereagh and other distinguished men of the time; paintings of the chief occurrences during the session of the congress and reproductions of the fashions, uniforms, court dresses and furniture of the day.

A Health Indicator.

Mrs. Nexdoor—How is old Mr. Moneybags this morning?
Mrs. Sharpeye—I haven't heard; but I noticed that Dr. Bigfe looked very gloomy when he left the Moneybags residence a little while ago.
Mrs. Nexdoor—Ah, then the dear old gentleman is getting well.

A Near-Sighted Citizen

Citizen, excitedly—Officer, there is a dance hall open around the corner. I heard the music. And on Sunday night, too!

Policeman—You must be near-sighted. You can see by the bills in front of the house that it ain't a dance hall. It's a sacred concert.

A curious source of wealth is reported by the French consul at Mongtze, in Upper Tonkin. It lies in wood mines. The wood originally was a pine forest, which the earth swallowed in some cataclysm. Some of the trees are a yard in diameter.

Cast iron is extended the 5,500th part of its length for every ton of direct strain per square inch of its section; its elasticity is fully excited when extended the 1,000th part and the limit of its elasticity is estimated to be found at the time when it is extended the 1,200th part of its length. The tensile strength of the strongest piece of cast iron ever tested was 45,970 pounds to the square inch.

A YOUNG GIRL'S FORTUNE.

AN INTERESTING SKETCH.

Nothing appeals so strongly to a mother's affection as her daughter just budding into womanhood. Following is an instance: "Our daughter, Blanche, now 15 years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. She was in such a condition that we had to keep her from school and abandon her music lessons. In fact, we feared St. Vitus dance, and are positive but for an invaluable remedy she would have had that terrible affliction. We had employed physicians, but she received no benefit from them. The first of last August she weighed but 75 pounds, and although she has taken only three bottles of Nerve she now weighs 106 pounds; her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and studies with comfort and ease. She has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid, and no money could procure for our daughter the health Dr. Miles' Nerve has brought her."

When my brother recommended the remedy I had no faith in patent medicines, and would not listen to him, but as a last resort he sent us a bottle, we began giving it to Blanche, and the effect was almost immediate."—Mrs. R. B. Bullock, Brighton, N. Y.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

Doubt About Insurance.

Insuring in a questionable company is like depositing in a shaky bank. Both concerns may pull through, but why take the risk? Read this list:

The Soul and the Beard.

In Russia it was the common belief up to the time of Peter the Great that beardless men were also soulless and that a man who purposely admitted of having his beard marred could never enter heaven. The great Peter above referred to ordered his heathens to "shave up," so as to appear more civilized, and when they refused to comply with his edict he fined the wealthy and middle classes 100 rubles for each beard that was permitted to grow and each peasant and laborer a copek for the same privilege. Finally the priests were appealed to and they informed their parishioners that unless they submitted to having their beards shaved, they need not expect that St. Nicholas, the gate-keeper of heaven would be able to distinguish them from the bearded Turks. That had the desired effect.—St. Louis Republic.

Like "Sweet Bells Jangled Out of Tune," Weak nerves respond harshly and inharmoniously to slight shocks, which would produce no effect upon strong ones. The shrill outcry of a child, the slamming of a door, the rattling of a vehicle over uneven pavement and other thrilling disturbances effect weak nerves—sensitive nerves, sorely. Nervousness is largely attributable to dyspepsia and non-assimilation of the food, a very usual concomitant of sleeplessness. Digestion and assimilation renewed by Hostetter's Stomach soon beget nerve quietude and sound repose. The great alternative causes the liver and bowels to unite in co-operative harmony with the stomach, whereby the general tone of the system is raised to the true standard of health. In malarial complaints, rheumatism and kidney trouble, the Bitters produce excellent results.

FEARFUL COST OF A MISTAKE.

How any intelligent man can claim that the democratic administration has had nothing to do with hard times, is a question not easily answered. Evidence on every hand points with unerring certainty to the rule of democracy as the rule of ruin.

The question of honesty of purpose does not enter into the discussion, for no one can accuse the rank and file of the democratic party of dishonesty. But the question of judgment and wise legislation does enter into it very largely and demands radical treatment.

It is possible for an individual or a party prompted by honest intentions, to make errors as grievous and as disastrous, as if the results were accomplished by efforts to wrong and defraud. That the democratic party have made many grievous mistakes, during the last two years is admitted and deplored by many of its most ardent supporters.

The welfare of all the people is of broader significance by far, than partisan advantage or party fealty.

The best administration is the one that legislates so wisely, that confidence never weakens. When these conditions prevail every artery of business throbs with life. Product flows out through the channels of trade with an ever increasing volume. Capital increases and with the increase new enterprises and enlarged facilities invite more labor. From the ranks of toilers in the mills and mines spring up at frequent intervals embryo capitalists, who from small savings and small beginnings rapidly develop, and continually swell the ranks of capital. He and the tick of prosperity rolls on, bringing contentment and happiness on every hand.

The most obtuse observer will admit that all of these conditions were happy realities, confined not to localities, but existing generally throughout the country until two years ago.

Why did they cease to exist? There is but one rational answer, and that is lack of faith in an untested administration committed to free trade and tariff reform. Depression speedily followed in the long train of disaster and suffering.

Wisdom should have suggested to the party in power that there was something radically wrong and a halt called long ago. But blind partisanship, committed to a platform as unsound as the party that framed it, had the balance of power and the demoralizing work went on.

The people who suffer most as the result of this unwise administration are the people who labor with their hands. Many of them have been idle for a year, and as a result are destitute and discouraged. A vast army have found employment on short time and at reduced wages. Unrest and wide-spread dissatisfaction have followed.

What has the country gained by this new administration? Free wool, free coal, free iron and free lumber. At least that is what democracy claims to have gained. But what are the facts? Simply these. For every pound of wool, coal or iron, and for every foot of lumber, the old world has gained at the expense of American labor, and we have lost in a ratio that is out of all proportion.

There may be countries where the democratic theories can be worked out to advantage, but God never intended to throw them loose in the paradise of his footstool. It was a mistake that will be corrected a week from next Tuesday.

BALTZER'S ARM SELLS FOR $10,500
 Railway Compelled to Pay High for Maintaining a Monroe Man.

Maurice Baltzer, in whose interest B. F. Dunwiddie brought suit against the Illinois Central railway has won a complete victory in the supreme court. Baltzer lost his left arm on the Illinois Central in Monroe. Issue was joined against the company for damages in January, 1890. The circuit court awarded $10,000 damages and the company appealed the case to the supreme court. The judgment was reversed on technicalities and the case was remanded for new trial. In the fall of 1893 it was again tried before Judge Bennett in the circuit court and judgment to the amount of $10,500 was given. An appeal was again taken to the supreme court and the judgment together with interest, has been affirmed.

IN A WOMAN'S PRISON.

Restored to Her Husband at Wilton, Me., After Months of Suffering.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Women's prisons are not always built of iron bars and solid masonry. It is easy to shut women up from the beautiful, joyous world without these means.

Mrs. Mary A. Tupper has been released at Wilton, Me., from the custody of extreme female weakness and nervousness which kept her a prisoner in bed, unable to walk.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound went to the root of her trouble, and gave her the liberty of health, so that after taking two bottles she was able to go out of doors and surprise her husband and friends by her rapid improvement.

She says: "Women should beware of dizziness, sudden faintness, backache, extreme lassitude and depression. They are danger signals of female weakness, or some derangement of the uterus or womb. Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and be thankful for your life as I am. It only costs a dollar to try it, and the result is worth millions. Ask some druggist about it."

AN ALL NIGHT CHASE JAILED A BAD GANG

FIVE CREAMERY THIEVES ARE JAILED IN BELOIT.

Marshal Appleby Chased Them From 10 O'clock Until the Next Morning, Recovering $105 Worth of Plunder—Waited for Them in a Line City Livery Stable.

Five professional thieves jumped from a wagon into the arms of police officers in a Beloit livery stable this morning and Marshal W. H. Appleby's all night ride was rewarded. The arrest was due to Appleby's promptness and bull-dog determination. Its importance will be seen when it is known that it ends a systematic series of creamery robberies.

The thieves are all professionals. They robbed the butter factory in Allen Grove last night and got $105 worth of butter.

Marshal Appleby's chase began at 10 o'clock last evening and ended at daylight. About 9:30 the five thieves got a wagon from Murphy's stable and drove away. Appleby got a "tip" that made him suspicious and gathering three deputies he started out.

Every now and again he would hear of his men, but never get sight of them. About midnight the pursuers lost the trail. They drove to the Walworth county line and there got news that led them to turn back on another road. On their way back they passed the thieves for they struck Beloit first.

In Mr. Murphy's livery stable the officers waited. They waited until 7 o'clock and then the other team came in, almost exhausted. The horses could hardly have gone another mile. Appleby arrested the men as fast as they jumped from the wagon. Then he looked in the wagon box. It was empty, but on the bottom were fresh marks of eight butter firkins.

"What do you want us for?" demanded one of the men threateningly. "Butter stealing" said Appleby briefly.

"Now, who in — gave us away?" blurted out one of the gang incautiously.

Appleby hurried the men to a cell and started out to find out what creamery had been robbed. For a long time none could be found and it looked as if the thieves must be released, but about 3 o'clock word came from Allen Grove that the job was done there. James Martin, a Beloit grocer found the stolen butter in his barn shortly after noon.

AN ELECTRIC LIGHT INVENTION. Janesville System Said to Be an Infringement by a Racine Man.

Janesville's electric light system is the Thompson-Houston and this is said by W. K. Freeman of Racine, to be an infringement. Testimony has been taken in Racine for the last three days. Mr. Freeman is represented by Melville Church of Washington.

Thompson-Houston by H. C. Townsend of New York, and the Westinghouse people by Westley C. Carr of Pittsburgh. The suit is a patent office affair and in regard to the invention of what is known as and called the transformed system of electric lighting.

Mr. Freeman came to Racine in 1878 and opened a small shop and was continually experimenting with electric light. Many were invited in to see him work. The following year he gave an exhibition of both arc and incandescent light and a large number of citizens witnessed it. He claims that these lights were of his own invention and he now sues for the right of same which the companies have and hold through some manner unknown.

If Mr. Freeman wins his suit it means a fortune. Several citizens conversant with Mr. Freeman's inventions while in Racine are giving testimony.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF THE CLUB Fortnightlies Hear Remarks by Hon. Alex. Graham and Dr. J. B. Whiting.

A more fruitful meeting than that of the Fortnightly club last evening does not come often in the club's history. The discussion of George Eliot's "Romola" was led by Miss Glizle Harris, and one of the strongest papers of the evening was Morris M. Bostwick's statement of how secret societies fell under the ban of the Catholic hierarchy during the days in which Romola is laid. At the close of the regular programme Hon. Alexander Graham read a very appreciative and thoughtful tribute to Oliver Wendell Holmes. He then called upon Dr. J. B. Whiting, as a Massachusetts man and a personal friend of Dr. Holmes, to give his thoughts. Dr. Whiting, after brief reminiscences, brought in one of Holmes' stanzas on anaesthesia, citing it as an exemplification of Holmes' love for his profession, his broad philanthropy and his tenderness toward women.

The club meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Graham, and several non-members were present by special invitation.

JANESVILLE DEALERS ARE SAFEST. Buyers of Clothing Have Received Severe Lessons From Transient Stores.

Protection is the first law of nature. When a person buys an article they want to feel that if it is not as represented they can return the goods and get their money back. Any permanent house in Janesville will do this. All are reliable. But if a person patronizes those traveling concerns, that pitch their tents for a few days, and get beat, they can blame no one but themselves. Our home merchants sell as good goods as can be found on earth, and just as cheap. They are here all the time, pay taxes, help support the town and county, and should be patronized.

HAS HOGAN ANY OTHER OFFSET Aldermen Talk of Examining the Accounts for Another Four Years.

Now that Candidate Hogan has filed his bill of expenses with the city clerk, and that bill has been referred to the finance committee, it is intimated that aldermen want the expert examination pushed back a little further. Mr. Hogan's "offset" covers his entire expense account from 1882 to the present time. The expert in his examination only went back to 1886, and found Mr. Hogan short $1,026.31, leaving four very fruitful years to police officers untouched. Aldermen are asking what other offset Mr. Hogan would put in if it became necessary.

TITLE NOT PERFECT TO A COUNTY FARM

JOHNSTOWN PROPERTY CAN'T BE TRANSFERRED YET.

Question of the Insurance Will Not Be Settled Until the November Meeting of the Board of Supervisors—Gathering of the Committee This Afternoon.

The county farm at Johnstown was not transferred to the McFarlanes this afternoon. Rock county did not show a clear title to all the land. The title to one parcel of twenty acres appeared defective, requiring the county to procure deeds from a couple of parties.

The question of insurance was discussed by the committee, and it was the prevailing opinion that nothing could be done until action of the board was had in November.

The committee having the transfer in charge consists of Supervisors More of Bradford, Beardsley of Johnstown, Mayhew of Clinton and County Clerk McIntyre. The transfer of the farm will probably be made early next week.

THE JULIUS TOWER.

It Contains the Millions of Germany's War Treasures.

The Julius tower, not far from Berlin, contains the war treasure of 120,000,000 marks yielding no interest. This large sum, consisting of crowns and double crowns, is from time to time, without long notice, counted by two members of the imperial debt committee. Entrance to the well guarded tower can only be gained if these two members put their complicated keys in the keyhole simultaneously. Needless to say that there is always a sentry at the entrance door.

A strict record is kept of the hour of opening and closing the tower. On opening it one enters at once into the rotunda, where the shining 120,000,000 marks are stored. This vast sum is divided into twelve equal parts, each subdivided into ten others of the value of 1,000,000 each. This 1,000,000 is again distributed in ten bags of 10,000 marks each, two-thirds of which sum is in ten-mark pieces. When a revision is ordered the number of the division and subdivisions to be counted is chosen at haphazard.

For the counting a squad of soldiers is ordered. As soon as some of the 100,000 mark bags are counted and found correct the war treasure is considered to be properly revised. The other large funds—those of the invalids' relief and the fortification building fund—are also overhauled by carefully comparing the coupon sheets, numbers, series, &c., with the original entries. Until the beginning of the new reichstag building, this fund was also kept in the Julius tower. As soon as the work of counting and comparing is finished the auditor's report is drawn up and signed by both functionaries—the two keys are again simultaneously inserted in the locks—and the revision of the war treasure is concluded. The "counters" are drawn up in line and marched back to the barracks, the "committee" drive off in a cab and the "hoard" is left once more in that absolute quietude which every peace-loving Teuton hopes it may enjoy for many years to come.

FATE OF TWO SPARROWS.

They Were Greeting People on a Steamship When Something Happened.

Two impertinent sparrows met a curious and untimely death in the presence of an interested New York crowd a few days ago. One of the Cunard steamships was being warped in to her dock while crowds of people on the pier and the vessel were chafing at the delay and slowness of the tedious process. A thick hawser fastened to a capstan near the bow was being used in the warping process and was stiff as a pole under the tremendous strain.

The sparrows who had been twittering and chirping about the place fluttered out to examine the hawser. Evidently it was a new perch stretched for their benefit where it would afford a good view of both boat and pier, they thought. They settled on it half way out. At first the slight vibration of the big rope caused them some uneasiness, but they soon got over it and fell to poking fun at the waiting people. They would glance firstly at the travelers; then at the expectant friends, and then they would turn to each other and chirp out impertinent, gaudy remarks and twitter with glee until they nearly fell off their perch.

In the very midst of their enjoyment something happened. There was a muffled report and the thick hawser parted like a thread just where the feathered jokers had been standing, causing the dockmen to run as one end came writhing toward them like a snake. It was like the burst of thunder sound in Mrs. Hemans' poem; the birds, oh, where were they? Two little fluffy bunches of feathers rode the crest of a ripple in the water and disappeared under the pier.

"Poor little things. It killed them," said a lady on the pier.

Then a new hawser took the place of the old, the big ship swung in, and everybody pushed forward to greet long-absent friends.

She Felt Safe Then.

It was during a recent small-pox scare in a certain town in the Midlands, in England. An old lady from the country thought she would like to take a cab, but she was rather anxious, having heard that many of the cabs had been used to carry small-pox patients to the hospitals. She asked the driver whether there was any risk of catching the disease. "Not in the least, mum," answered the cabbie, "I've had one of my back wheels vaccinated, mum." Thus reassured, the old lady stepped in and proceeded on her way.

Will Wheat Turn to Cheat?

Some who read this headline will say "yes" and swear to it, while others, equally as well acquainted with the mysterious in agricultural lore, will declare that "like produces like" and that one species of grain never sprung from another. There is but one instance on record in all the annals of agriculture where a spike of cheat has been found in a bed of wheat. This curiosity is, or was quite recently at least, preserved in the agricultural museum in Springfield, Ill.

Found Guilty.

In a murder trial before a Western court, the prisoner was able to account for the whole of his time, except five minutes, on the evening when the crime was committed. His counsel argued that it was impossible for him to have killed the man, under the circumstances, in so brief a period, and on that plea largely based his defense, the other testimony being strongly against his client. When the prosecuting attorney replied, he said: "How long a time really is five minutes? Let us see. Will his honor command absolute silence in the court-room, for that space?" The judge graciously complied. There was a clock on the wall? Every eye in the court-room was fixed upon it, as the pendulum ticked off the seconds. There was breathless silence. The keen-witted counsel waited until the tired audience gave a sigh of relief at the close of the period, and then asked quietly: "Could he not have struck one fatal blow in all of that time?" The prisoner was found guilty, and as it was proved afterward, justly. — Argonaut.

Miss Painter Shot the Tramp.

Two tramps waylaid Miss Lizzie Painter of Hopewell, Pa., one evening recently, and one of them received a pistol bullet in his arm. Miss Painter, who is a music teacher, was driving from the home of one of her scholars to Hopewell, in a lonely part of the road, when a man, evidently a tramp, jumped out from the roadside and commanded her to get out of the wagon. For an answer Miss Painter raised a revolver and shot, and with a cry of pain the man dropped his hold on the horse, with a bullet in his wrist. At this moment another man ran out to catch the horse and the young woman fired at him also, but missed. The horse became frightened and rushed down the road before the second man could stop it. Since then a diligent search has been made for the tramps, but they have not yet been found.

A Relic of Prince Charlie.

A six-chambered revolver has been found in a railway cutting near the battlefield of Culloden. The revolver, which is apparently of French make, is of the pin-fire pattern, with one barrel. The stock is of ivory and the barrel and chamber are ornamented with some fine scroll-work. It is believed to have been the property of some of the French officers who accompanied Prince Charlie on his ill-fated expedition.

The U. S. Government, through the Agricultural Department, has been investigating the baking powders for the purpose of informing the public which was the purest, most economical and wholesome.

The published report shows the Royal Baking Powder to be a pure, healthful preparation, absolutely free from alum or any adulterant, and that it is greatly stronger in leavening power than any other baking powder.

Consumers should not let this valuable information, official and unprejudiced, go unheeded.

TRYING BANK POSITIONS.

Those Occupied by the Receiving and Paying Tellers.

The positions of paying and receiving teller are perhaps as trying positions as any in the business world. The men occupying these positions are thrown constantly into communication with all kinds and classes of people and no doubt are often infinitely bored by the dense ignorance evinced by many and the idle curiosity of others. The receiving teller's big bugaboo is counterfeit money, although the danger of taking it in is not so great now by any means as it was some ten or twelve years ago. The secret service of the government has kept such sharp track of all clever "queer" makers that it is only rarely a really good sample of spurious coin or bill gets into the hands of the bank people. Of course if the teller makes a mistake and receives any counterfeit money he is held responsible by the bank and obliged to make it good. A bank teller, as a rule, cannot tell you how he detects counterfeits. He really doesn't know. If he understands his business he can recognize bad money the moment he gets his hands on it. The first giance does it. He does not know how or why, but if he gets hold of a piece of money and it strikes him as bad he lays it aside right off. Then the examination begins for the minor faults. There are always some differences, but these can only be detected by close inspection. The teller must rather depend on a sixth sense which comes with practice, for he has not time to closely examine any currency unless he has a suspicion first that something is wrong. The paying teller's burden is the fear that he will overpay some one. It is a strange thing about paying tellers' accounts that they are never over any. If anything is wrong they are always out. This does not speak well for the honesty of people in general, but it is a fact. And the paying teller is expected to refund any money he may overpay by mistake. Some years ago, says the Post-Dispatch, the St. Louis National bank sent down some of the boys to collect $80,000 from one of the St. Louis banks. The paying teller was at the window and counted out the money in his usual dignified way. One of the boys noticed that a mistake had been made and attempted to show the latter that such was the case.

The latter is a very dignified man and he resented the interference. "Who's paying the money?" he asked.

The boys said no more, but took the fortune back to the St. Louis National. When it was counted it was discovered that the teller had only blundered to the tune of $20,000. He had paid out $100,000 instead of $80,000. Of course he got the money back, but he would have been a very sick man if he had been obliged to make good such an amount.

Putting Himself in His Place.

"Ef you wuz me, mum," said the fierce-looking, shaggy-haired tramp, stepping inside the door as he spoke, "and hadn't had a bite fur twenty-four hours, would you git down on your knees an' beg for a mouthful of cold victuals, or would you feel like you had a right to a square meal an' jist help yerself?"

"I think I'd see if the folks kept a dog about the house," replied the square-jawed woman, starting for the woodshed, "before I put on any airs. And if they had—"

But he didn't wait.

ROSENFELD.

Will he do it again?

He paid his tailor $50 for a suit of clothes.

Then looked at the the Rosenfeld suit his friend bought for $25.00.

Net result, $25 worth of exasperating experience.

Double or single breasted Sack Suits made in the latest styles, and with all the skill and carefulness of best tailoring---$15 to $35.

Cheviots, worsteds, diagonals ---the approved fabrics---the ROSENFELD excellence---at moderate prices.

After all, we say: "If what you buy here doesn't suit, bring it back and take your money."
